To Whom It May Concern:

It is my pleasure to write to you to recommend Justin Moll. I have known Justin all of his life, having served as his Theatre Director, Quiz Bowl coach, and ecclesiastical leader in several capacities. Through all of this, he has my confidence and my trust. His standout qualities include a desire to do things the right way and his impeccable integrity.

Justin's choices are largely governed by his desire to do the right things and do them correctly. He is led by a strong sense of duty. He will always choose to do what his responsibilities demand of him, even if he is unsure or hesitant. He is one of the most helpful people I have ever met, possessing a real desire to assist the people around him with needs spoken and unspoken. He is an incredible secondary leader – that is, a leader without a title. Others see him doing the right thing, and then follow his example. Because he consistently does what is required of him, this has led to success in my organizations.

Secondly, I can personally vouch for Justin's integrity. Just as he does things the right way, he also does what is right. While this includes morals and ethics, it also includes fulfilling his responsibilities with integrity of work ethic. What he commits to will be done and done on time. He consistently comes through on tasks that I'm hesitant to give to others.

I hope you will accept this letter as my recommendation of Justin. I know he will benefit your organization as he has repeatedly benefitted mine. If I can provide any more information as to his character or work ethic, please contact me.

Sincerely,

Brad Parks
